Comment text:

I currently serve as a District Council for Maxton, Elms Vale and Priory ward. I spend on average 30 hours a week on casework, I also have two colleagues, one who spends an equal amount of time on casework and the other averages 15 hours a week, this is due to his work commitments. It has been brought to my attention that other wards such as St Margaret's spend significantly less time on casework. This suggests to me that poorer areas with significantly more social issues, require a great deal more work. It will be a struggle to maintain the current level of service with two Councillors in my Ward as we have seen a steady increase in work over the last couple of months! And I can see this continuing. There could also be potentially 521 houses being built in this ward, which will increase the local population.
