The proposed Mordens ward extending so far north ignores the way in which these individual communities work - the interactions between the villages (or not) - for example the 6 villages in the Shingay deanery, the schools our children travel to, the directions in which we go for shopping (south of Tadlow all travel south, north go to Gamlingay), the impact of distance on the workload of any councillor. The new wards need to respect communities and not just lump us into same sized boxes.
