Include Corse as part of Redmarley Ward and combine Staunton and Corse Parish Councils. It makes no sense having two parishes and district councillors when the boundary is probably unknown by most people as it goes through the centre of the villages. This would make supporting what is now a split community into a much more sensible solution and reduce a parish council. If you then put the remaining Hartpury ward into Oxenhall and Newent North East, one District Councillor will be saved.
