Subject: Cambs County Council Boundary review.

Dear Sirs,

I am a member of Cambridgeshire County Council and have been elected to the Haddenham Division x3 times (2005,2009,2013)

I think it is reasonable to try to equalise voters in each division but expecting a member to offer real representation to 20,000 people is just not sensible or logical. I wish to represent my division and after over 10 years know most of the local problems and a many of the residents. (The same is true of other members of whatever Party)

Two member divisions are not sensible, popular or workable.

I have consulted with local residents and Parish Councils, they wish (and to me demand) that they only have x1 County Councillor.

Best wishes

Bill Hunt
County member Haddenham Division
