PROPOSALS FOR THE FUTURE ELECTORAL ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE COUNTY OF BUCKINGHAMSHIRE

1. The last order under Section 51 of the Local Government Act 1972 in relation to the electoral arrangements for districts in the County of Buckinghamshire was made on 18 June 1980. As required by Section 63 and Schedule 9 of the Act, we have now reviewed the electoral arrangements for that county, using the procedures we had set out in our report No.6.

2. We informed Buckinghamshire County Council in a consultation letter dated 17 December 1980 that we proposed to conduct the review, and sent copies of the letter to all local authorities and parish meetings in the county, to the MP's representing the constituencies concerned, to the headquarters of the main political parties and to the editors both of local newspapers circulating in the county and of the local government press. Notices in the local press announced the start of the review and invited comments from members of the public and from interested bodies.

3. On 22 July 1981 the County Council submitted to us a draft scheme in which they suggested 70 electoral divisions for the county, each returning one member in accordance with Section 6(2)(a) of the Act.

4. We considered this scheme together with the views expressed by local interests. On 4 March 1982 we issued draft proposals which we sent to all those who had received our consultation letter, or commented on the County Council's draft scheme. Notices were inserted in the local press announcing that the draft proposals had been issued and could be inspected at the County Council's offices.

5. We incorporated the County Council's draft scheme in our draft proposals, subject to the following amendments which we adopted to take account of comments we had received on the scheme.

(a) Chiltern District

We adopted the alternative scheme proposed by Chiltern District Council for eight divisions which appeared to have greater regard to the maintenance of local ties and to have more support locally;

(b) South Bucks District

We considered that the allocation of seven councillors would result in this district being under represented in relation to other districts in the county on both current and forecast electorate figures. We decided to allocate an extra councillor to this district, thus increasing the size of the County Council to 71 members. As a consequence of the changed allocation, we adopted the alternative 8 member scheme put forward by South Bucks District Council;

(c) Wycombe District

We adopted the alternative scheme for ten divisions proposed by Wycombe District Council which appeared to have greater regard to the maintenance of local ties.

(d) We accepted the alternative names for electoral divisions suggested by Chiltern District Council and Milton Keynes Borough Council.

6. We received comments in response to our draft proposals from the County Council, three district councils, three town councils, thirteen parish councils, one Member of Parliament, two county councillors, two district councillors, one parish councillor, two political organisations, seven other organisations and 97 private individuals. A list of those who wrote to us is given in Appendix 1 to this report.

7. Buckinghamshire County Council noted that we had adopted their proposals as our draft proposals in respect of the Aylesbury Vale and Milton Keynes districts, with the exception of some division names, and did not wish to make any comments in respect of those districts. As far as the South Bucks district was concerned the County Council accepted the proposal that an additional councillor should be allocated to this district and although they considered our proposals did have the disadvantage of splitting Beaconsfield and Iver they were not able to put forward a more satisfactory 8 member scheme. The County Council noted the attention we had apparently paid to the maintenance of local ties but in examining the proposals for Wycombe district they were extremely doubtful as to the affinity between, for example, the parishes of Turville and Little Marlow, and between the parishes of Longwich, Radnage, and Great and Little Hampton. They also attached some importance to the linking of Marlow with Marlow Bottom and to their proposals for the Hazlemere area. They also considered that a similar point arose in respect of Chiltern district where it was a feature of their proposals that Amersham Town and Amersham-on-the-Hill should form one division so keeping communities together; and in the case of the Chesham divisions, that each should contain a mixed urban and rural area. They considered that the alternative proposals for Chiltern and Wycombe districts should be the subject of further consultation at a local meeting. The County Council also suggested alternative names for some of the Chiltern and Wycombe divisions.

8. The other comments received can be summarised as follows:-

(a) Aylesbury Vale District

Aylesbury Vale District Council reiterated the views they had earlier submitted on the County Council's draft scheme in relation to the Grange, Mandeville and Oakfield wards and the parishes of Bierton-with-Broughton and Hulcott, and asked us to reconsider our draft proposals. They said that their own alternative suggestions had been made having regard to the principle of retaining as far as possible local ties and local support. They also requested that careful consideration should be given to the disadvantages of dividing Buckingham Town between two electoral divisions. Bierton-with-Broughton Parish Council objected to their parish and the parish of Hulcott being linked in an electoral division with the urban area of Aylesbury, preferring that they be joined with the district wards of Weston Turville and Aston Clinton. Buckingham Town Council reiterated their view that the growth in population justified a separate division for the Town area. They considered that the proposed division of the town had no significance and that it would take little adjustment of the surrounding area to allow a separate third seat for the town. Councillor D T Whitehead claimed that the division of Buckingham Town between two divisions did not have regard to the maintenance of local ties.

(b) Chiltern District

Chiltern District Council contested the County Council's claim that there were community links between Amersham-on-the-Hill and Amersham Old Town. They maintained that the Old Town had greater affinity with the surrounding villages and had little in common with the newer residential area of Amersham-on-the-Hill.

There was widespread opposition to the proposed names for the electoral divisions comprising the areas of Chalfont St Peter and Chalfont St Giles. Objections were received from Chalfont St Peter Parish Council, Chalfont St Giles Parish Council, Sir Ian Gilmour MP, Chalfont St Giles Liberal Association, the National Council of Women of Great Britain, Chalfont Common and District Preservation Association, Chalfont St Peter Parochial Church Council, County Councillor R N Lines, District Councillor Margot Gordon and 97 private individuals. A petition containing 124 signatures was also received. In view of the strength of local opinion Chiltern District Council proposed that the divisions of Chalfont North, Chalfont East and Chalfont West should be renamed Chalfont St Giles, Chalfont St Peter East and Chalfont St Peter West respectively. This was also suggested by the County Council and one or all of these alternative names were supported by the bodies/individuals referred to above. County Councillor Lines, however, suggested that Chalfont West division should be renamed Seer Green.

Chartridge Parish Council objected to the name of the Chesham West electoral division on the grounds that it was exclusively urban and considered that a name more representative of the town/country mix of the division would be more appropriate. They suggested that either the name Chesham Rural West and Chartridge or alternatively Chesham Rural West, should be adopted. Cholesbury-cum-St Leonards Parish Council were prepared to accept the latter name but not the former, but they made it clear that they were also prepared to accept the name Chesham West. Chesham Town Council objected to both of the suggested alternatives and maintained that Chesham West was the best name.

Jordans Village Ltd., the Tenants Members' Committee for Jordans Village, Chalfont St Giles Parish Council all reiterated their request that Chalfont St Giles, Jordans and Seer Green be included within the same electoral division. They were supported by Chalfont St Giles Liberal Association and a private individual. Chesham and District Ratepayers' Association suggested that when considering county electoral boundary changes due regard should be given to recommended Parliamentary boundary changes. County Councillor R N Lines suggested the names Amersham and Little Chalfont or alternatively Amersham East should be adopted for the Amersham Raans electoral division. He claimed that Raans Farm on which the division name was based did not reflect any community within the area. The County Council also proposed the alternative name of Amersham East for this division. County Councillor Lines also suggested that the Amersham North and Chesham Bois division be renamed Amersham West.

(c) Milton Keynes Borough

Milton Keynes Liberal Association objected to the allocation of seats between the districts and considered that the borough of Milton Keynes should have an additional seat, with Aylesbury Vale's entitlement being reduced by one. They also suggested that adjustments should be made to rectify the electoral imbalance between the Petsoe Manor and Milton Keynes East electoral divisions. County Councillor E S Henderson suggested an alternative arrangement for these divisions and also considered that the borough should be allocated another seat. Buckingham Constituency Labour Party objected to the draft proposals and reiterated the proposals which they had previously submitted to us.

(d) South Bucks District

South Bucks District Council were pleased to note that the draft proposals included an extra councillor for the district and that their proposed scheme had been adopted. Stoke Poges Parish Council objected to being included in an electoral division with Farnham Royal and requested that instead they be linked with either the parish of Wexham or the parishes of Fulmer and Hedgerley. Parish Councillors Mrs N Saunders objected to there being one councillor only for Iver and to the separation of Iver from Iver Heath. Burnham Parish Council expressed their agreement with the draft proposals.

(e) Wycombe District

As well as asking us to reconsider our draft proposals for the district, and to hold a local meeting, the County Council suggested an alternative name for the Bourne End division. Wycombe District Council considered that the merits of the respective cases had been fully discussed and that to hold a local meeting would serve no purposes. They had consulted with Chiltern and South Bucks District Councils who shared this view. They had no objections to the alternative name for the Bourne End division proposed by the County Council. Wycombe Divisional Liberal Association generally supported the draft proposals but reiterated their dissatisfaction with the electoral arrangements for High Wycombe and indicated that they would have preferred Marlow to be split east/west instead of north/south. Stokenchurch Parish Council objected to their parish being linked with Lane End, claiming that their natural ties lay in the direction of Bledlow and Saunderton. Hazlemere Residents Association claimed that the draft proposals split the community of Hazlemere and they supported the County Council's request for a local meeting. Wooburn Parish Council reiterated the proposals they had submitted at an earlier stage of the review. Chepping Wycombe Parish Council, Marlow Town Council, Little Marlow Parish Council and Longwick-cum-Ilmer Parish Council all expressed their support for the draft proposals.

9. In re-assessing our draft proposals we have taken account of all the comments we have received. Although some requests, including one from the County Council, have been made for a local meeting to be held, we consider we have sufficient information to reach decisions on the evidence before us and have come to the conclusions set out below.

(a) Aylesbury Vale

We had considered the alternative arrangements put forward by Aylesbury Vale District Council for the Grange, Mandeville and Oakfield wards and the parishes of Bierton-with-Broughton and Hulcott, at an earlier stage in the review and had rejected them because numerically the standard of representation they produced was not as good as the County Council's draft scheme arrangements. We can see no reason to alter this decision and we are therefore unable to accede to the requests made by the District Council and Bierton-with-Broughton Parish Council. We had also considered at the earlier stage of the review an alternative arrangement whereby the town of Buckingham would not be split between electoral divisions. This arrangement would have produced a very large rural division which would have completely encircled the town. It would be difficult for one councillor effectively to represent a division of this nature and for this reason we had rejected this arrangement. We can see no reason to alter this decision.

(b) Chiltern

We accept the view of the Chiltern District Council about the absence of links between Amersham Old Town and Amersham-on-the-Hill and we therefore reject the County Council's proposal.

Although it is clear from the correspondence that a large number of those living in Chalfont St Peter and Chalfont St Giles were under the misapprehension that the Commission were intending to change the names of their villages, we nevertheless accept the demand for a change of names of the Chalfont East, Chalfont West and Chalfont North electoral divisions and therefore adopt the alternative names of Chalfont St Giles, Chalfont St Peter East and Chalfont St Peter West that have been suggested by the District Council and the County Council, and accordingly do not accept the alternative name of Seer Green.

We do not consider that the alternative names suggested by Chartridge Parish Council for the Chesham West division offer any advantage and we have therefore not adopted them.

We are unable to accede to the request to link the Chalfont St Giles, Seer Green and Jordans areas in one electoral division. To do so would produce adverse knock-on-effects on other divisions in the area which have been accepted locally.

We accept the argument put forward by County Councillor Lines for the renaming of the Amersham Raans division. We have therefore adopted his suggested name of Amersham East which was also proposed by the County Council. The alternative name of Amersham West for the Amersham North and Chesham Bois division also suggested by County Councillor Lines does not appear to have support from any other quarter and for this reason we have not adopted it.

(c) Milton Keynes

We are unable to accede to the request made by the Milton Keynes Liberal Association for an additional councillor for the Borough. We gave consideration to this matter at an earlier stage in the review and decided that because of the development that is taking place in the area it could be difficult to estimate forecast electorate figures for 1985. We accepted the allocation of 17 members that had been put forward by the County Council in their draft scheme and can see no reason to alter this decision. The electorate total for 1985 upon which the Liberal Association had based their request to reduce the entitlement of Aylesbury Vale by one councillor was based on an incorrect figure.

We are unable to accept the alternative arrangement for the Petsoe Manor and Milton Keynes East divisions put forward by County Councillor Henderson which only appears to have the support of the Milton Keynes Liberal Association.

We had considered the two alternative schemes for the Borough put forward by the Buckingham Constituency Labour Party at the earlier stage in the review and rejected them because numerically the standard of representation they provided was not as good as the County Council's draft scheme arrangements. We can see no reason to alter this decision.

(d) South Bucks

We are unable to accede to the requests made by Stoke Poges Parish Council and Mrs N Saunders because the arrangements they suggest would produce considerable knock-on effects for other divisions in the district and are therefore not acceptable.

(e) Wycombe

We have adopted the alternative name Wooburn suggested by the County Council for the Bourne End division to which the District Council have not objected.

It appears that the Wycombe Divisional Liberal Association are the only objectors to the proposed electoral arrangements for High Wycombe that were put forward by the County Council in their draft scheme. The arrangements have also been accepted by the District Council and we adopted them as our draft proposals. We can see no reason to alter these arrangements. We were unable to accept the Liberal Association's suggested split of Marlow.

We are unable to accede to the requests we received from Stokenchurch Parish Council or Hazlemere Residents' Association because the arrangements which they prefer would have unacceptable adverse knock-on effects on other divisions in the area.

We had considered an alternative two division arrangement that had been put forward by Wooburn Parish Council at an earlier stage in the review and rejected it because it produced adverse knock-on effects which would be difficult to resolve. We can see no reason to amend this decision.

10. We accordingly confirm our draft proposals as our final proposals for all districts in the county subject to the change of four names of divisions in Chiltern and the name of one division in Wycombe district referred to in paragraphs 9(b) and 9(e) above.

11. Details of these final proposals are set out in Schedule 1 and 2 to this report and on the attached map. Schedule 1 gives the names of the electoral divisions. A detailed description of the boundaries of the proposed electoral divisions as defined on the map is set out in Schedule 2.

12. PUBLICATION

In accordance with Section 60(5)(b) of the Local Government Act 1972 a copy of this report and a copy of the map are being sent to Buckinghamshire County Council and will be available for inspection at the Council's main offices. Copies of this report (without map) are being sent to those who received the consultation letter and to those who made comments.
