Comment text:

The fact that a county border (ie Cambridgeshire/Suffolk) runs through a town the size of Newmarket is highly unsatisfactory. The proposal that the East Cambridgeshire part of the town is split between two wards, in future, is a nonsense. I urge you to leave Cheveley Ward alone. The current parish ward - Woodditton Urban is part of the town of Newmarket. It does not relate in any way to Dullingham Villages. Have you considered redrawing this area of the district, and renaming a new ward Woodditton, in line with the current County Council division?
