

HISTORY ACTS 07 BLACK LIVES MATTER

THURSDAY 6 JULY 2017

AN ACTIVIST LED WORKSHOP

Malachi Thomas, Black Lives Matter organiser, Nottingham
Tippa Naphtali, the founder of 4WardEver

11AM TO 12.30PM

BIRMINGHAM UNIVERSITY

RESPONDING HISTORIANS

Dr Christienna Fryar, University of Liverpool
Dr Kennetta Perry, East Carolina University

HISTORY ACTS workshops are led by activists, who give a short talk or presentation about their work. A historian or historians working on a relevant topic will then respond, before opening it up to group discussion.

HISTORY ACTS is a new radical history forum, affiliated to the Raphael Samuel Centre, and based at the University of London. Our goal is to bring together radical and left-wing historians and contemporary activists. We want to find new ways to engage as academics with contemporary struggles, to learn from activists, and to see how we can use what expertise and institutional resources we have to provide active solidarity.