

LARISSA DIADKOVA

Mezzo soprano

Larissa Diadkova is a principal artist of the Mariinsky Theatre, where she has enjoyed a longstanding artistic relationship with the company's music director, Valery Gergiev. She is a graduate of the Leningrad Conservatory where she studied with Professor Iraida Levando.

She made her professional debut in Europe in 1991 as Liubov in Tchaikovsky's Mazeppa at the Bregenz Festival. In addition to the Russian musical literature, Larissa's name has become synonymous with the repertoire of Bach, Handel, Mahler, Wagner and, in particular, Verdi. It was as Ulrica in Verdi's Un ballo in maschera at the Maggio Musicale Fiorentino that she was established as a major international artist in this repertoire. She was invited back to the Maggio to sing Amneris Aida and took part in the theatre's tour of Japan in 1997 under the baton of Zubin Mehta.

In 1998, she made her debut at Teatro alla Scala as Laura La Gioconda and returned to the theatre as Marfa Khovanshchina conducted by Valery Gergiev. For the 100th Anniversary of the death of Verdi, she devoted most of the 2000/01 season to performing roles by the composer. Her Azucena Il Trovatore, Amneris and Ulrica were seen in major houses around the world including the Wiener Staatsoper, Teatro Real, Madrid, San Francisco Opera, Arena di Verona and Teatro Regio di Parma. She also appeared as Mistress Quickly in the new production of Falstaff at the Osterfestspiele Salzburg conducted by Claudio Abbado. In 2001, she made her debut at the Opéra de Paris as Marfa Khovanshchina and returned to Paris to sing Azucena and Jezhibaba Rusalka opposite Renee Fleming. Her debut at the Lyric Opera of Chicago took place in 2003 as Ulrica, later appearing there as Fricka Das Rheingold and Die Walküre conducted by Sir Andrew Davis.

Since 1996 she has been a regular guest at the Metropolitan Opera where she has performed roles including Azucena, Amneris, Ulrica, Marfa, Herodias Salome and Fricka. In the 2005/06 she performed the role of Liubov in the new production of Mazeppa conducted by Valery Gergiev. More recently, she has performed such varied roles at the Met as Marta Iolanta, the Countess Queen of Spades and Filippievna Eugene Onegin.

Larissa has also performed with many of the world's major orchestras including the New York Philharmonic, the Berliner Philharmoniker and the Chicago Symphony Orchestra with conductors such as Valery Gergiev, Mstislav Rostropovich, Yuri Temirkanov, Claudio Abbado and Riccardo Muti.

Larissa has also enjoyed a prolific recording career with highlights including Glinka's Ruslan and Lyudmila, Mazeppa and Prokofiev's Betrothal in a Monastery, all conducted by Valery Gergiev. Her most recent recordings include Il Trovatore with Angela Gheorghiu and Roberto Alagna conducted by Antonio Pappano for EMI Classics and Falstaff conducted by Claudio Abbado for Deutsche Grammophon.

Recent engagements include Jezhibaba Rusalka, Countess Pique Dame and Marfa Khovanshchina at the Opéra de Paris, Countess Pique Dame at the Dutch National Opera, Bayerische Staatsoper and in concert with the Bayerischer Rundfunk, Mistress Quickly Falstaff at the Hamburgische Staatsoper, Herodias Salome in concert in Istanbul, and Filippievna Eugene Onegin at the Wiener Staatsoper, Bayerische Staatsoper, Houston Grand Opera and for the Netherlands Radio Philharmonic.
