

DIEGO SILVA

Tenor

Mexican tenor Diego Silva received the Plácido Domingo Scholarship from Sociedad Internacional de Valores del Arte Mexicano, won first prize along with the special and public prize of the Carlo Morelli Singing Competition, and was a finalist in Maestro Domingo's Operalia World Competition held in Verona in 2013. He studied at The Curtis Institute of Music with a fourth year as resident artist at the AVA Philadelphia.

Diego continues to attract significant international attention with his captivating performances, described by Opera News as 'a convincing Romantic hero dispensing a beautiful, lightly vibrato-ed star-quality tenor tone: this is a career to follow'. Diego made his Metropolitan Opera debut as Tybalt in their new production of Roméo et Juliette in the 2016-17 season, of which the New York Classical Review wrote, 'Diego Silva made an exceptional debut as Tybalt, flashing a consistent, buttery tenor and working himself up to burning insistence as he made his fateful challenge to Romeo.' Recent highlights also include Duca Rigoletto and Alfredo La Traviata for the Luzerner Theater and for the Theater Orchester Biel, Leicester Maria Stuarda with Edmonton Opera and Nemorino L'Elisir d'Amore at Xinghai Concert Hall, Guangzhou.

Recent engagements include Nicias Thais with the Melbourne Symphony Orchestra, Rodolfo La bohème at Opera de Metz, productions of La Traviata (Alfredo), Falstaff (Fenton), Die Zauberflöte (Tamino) and a new production of Massenet's Manon (Des Grieux) at Luzerner Theater, Alfredo for Trondheim Symphony Orchestra and title role Faust for the Savonlinna Opera Festival and Vilnius City Opera, a role he has also sung at the Macau International Music Festival, at the AVA and Curtis Opera Theatre and covered at the Paris Opera under the baton of Emmanuel Plasson. In addition to Faust, at the AVA Diego performed Lensky Eugene Onegin, Count Almaviva Il Barbiere di Siviglia and Nemorino, and at Curtis Opera Theatre he performed Arbace Idomeneo, Elvino La Sonnambula, Belfiore Il Viaggio a Reims and Don Ottavio Don Giovanni.

On the concert platform Diego appeared as Lord Percy Anna Bolena at the Tchaikovsky Concert Hall in Moscow, performed to an audience of over 15,000 at the festival Violon Sur le Sable in Royan, and has appeared in recital at Alice Tully Hall at the Lincoln Center, the Konzerthaus Berlin, and with the Palacio de Bellas Artes Orchestra and El Paso Symphony Orchestra. Diego has also appeared with the New World Symphony Orchestra led by Michael Tilson Thomas at the New World Center, at the Plácido Domingo Zarzuela Gala Fuerte de San Diego with the Acapulco Symphony Orchestra, and with the Minería Symphony Orchestra in the 'Best Voices of Mexico' concert.

Highlights of the 2018/19 season include his role debut as title role Roméo et Juliette and further appearances as Alfredo La Traviata at Luzerner Theater, as well as a role and UK debut as Rinuccio Gianni Schicchi for Opera North. Further ahead Diego will return to Opera di Metz as the Duca Rigoletto, and make his house debut as Arturo Lucia di Lammermoor with Monte-Carlo Opera.
