

Have your say

We are now consulting local people on a new pattern of wards for Havering Council. We have an open mind about our final recommendations, and we will consider every piece of evidence we receive from local groups and people, regardless of whom it is from or whether it relates to the whole council area or just a part of it.

If you agree with our recommendations, please let us know. If you don't think our recommendations are right for Havering we want to hear alternative proposals for a different pattern of wards.

We aim to propose a pattern of wards for Havering Council which delivers:

- Electoral equality: each councillor represents a similar number of voters.
- Community identity: reflects the identity and interests of local communities.
- Effective and convenient local government: helping your council discharge its responsibilities effectively.

A good pattern of wards should:

- Provide good electoral equality, with each councillor representing, as closely as possible, the same number of voters.
- Reflect community interests and identities and include evidence of community links.
- Be based on strong, easily identifiable boundaries.
- Help the council deliver effective and convenient local government.

Electoral equality

- Does your proposal mean that councillors would represent roughly the same number of voters as elsewhere in the council area?

Community identity

- Transport links: are there good links across your proposed ward? Is there any form of public transport?
- Community groups: is there a parish council, residents association or another group that represents the area?
- Facilities: does your pattern of wards reflect where local people go for shops, medical services, leisure facilities etc?

- Interests: what issues bind the community together or separate it from other parts of your area?
- Identifiable boundaries: are there natural or constructed features which make strong boundaries for your proposals?

Effective local government

- Are any of the proposed wards too large or small to be represented effectively?
- Are the proposed names of the wards appropriate?

Havering Council

New Draft Recommendations on the new electoral arrangements

Who we are

- The Local Government Boundary Commission for England is an independent body set up by Parliament.
- We are not part of government or any political party.
- We are accountable to Parliament through a committee of MPs chaired by the Speaker of the House of Commons.
- Our main role is to carry out electoral reviews of local authorities throughout England.

Electoral review

An electoral review examines and proposes new electoral arrangements for a local authority, including:

- The total number of councillors representing the council's voters ('council size').
- The names, number and boundaries of wards or electoral divisions.
- The number of councillors for each ward or division.

Why Havering?

- The Commission has a legal duty to carry out an electoral review of each council in England 'from time to time'.
- Havering Council has not been reviewed since 1999 and the Commission has therefore decided that it should review Havering in advance of the elections in 2022.

Our proposals

- We propose that the council should have 55 councillors in future, representing 15 three-councillor wards and 5 two-councillor wards across the council area.

You have until 08 March 2021 to have your say on the recommendations

Summary of our recommendations

Our new draft recommendations propose that Havering's council size should be 55 councillors, an increase of one from the current size of 54. Those councillors should represent 15 three-councillor wards, and five two-councillor wards. Havering should have 20 wards, two more than there are now.

A number of submissions we received during our consultation on our draft recommendations proposed significantly different boundaries to those we had proposed. We found these to be well-evidenced and we have been persuaded to make significant changes to our original draft recommendations. Given this, the fact that a number of our proposed changes have not been subject of consultation, and the numerous ward name changes proposed, we have decided to publish new draft recommendations and consult on them for eight weeks.

Under these new recommendations we have made changes to our proposed wards in the south, centre and north-east of the borough, as well as minor changes across the borough as a whole. The boundaries of all wards should change, with the exception of Upminster which will remain the same.

An outline of the proposals is shown in the map to the right. A detailed report on the recommendations and interactive mapping is available on our website at: www.lgbce.org.uk.

We welcome comments on our draft recommendations, whether you support the proposals or wish to put forward alternative arrangements.
