Dear Sirs

Whitnash Residents Association with to make the following comments re the current County Council Boundary Review for Warwickshire currently being undertaken.

Whitnash is a unique town with a strong Community Identity that has its own Town Council, shops, schools, doctors, police team, churches and wide range of voluntary run organisations.

Currently it has one member representation on the County Council. As the numbers the sitting councillor represents is almost exactly the number being suggested as the ideal for each County Councillor we agree with the recommendation made by the County Council that Whitnash has no changes to its boundary representation at this time.

Yours Sincerely

Judy Falp
Secretary
Whitnash Residents Association
