

Clive Neal-Sturgess

Alcester Town Council

Member of the public

28/03/2013 14:27

"A smaller number of Councillors would make the decision making process easier. Councillors will be representing larger wards, which will be more onerous, but if the number of people Councillors represent is roughly equal (by merging small wards) this should be equitable.

Probably the number of council committees needs to be streamlined to account for the smaller number of councillors"