Whilst welcoming the proposals set out in note 54 to include the Straight Mile and Crampmoor within the boundary of the Parish of Ampfield, I would to request three further additions. Two of these areas border either side of Jermyns Lane. To the north side of the road, somewhat bizarrely there are several houses that have been excluded from the parish and to the south the house called Brackenwood has also be omitted. In both cases, the characteristics of the properties and their natural setting complement very much those of the adjacent houses, which have been included within Ampfield's parish boundaries. The residents equally feel they have much in common with their Ampfield neighbours. Their loyalties lie very much within the Ampfield community rather than outside. The third area that might be reconsidered is Ganger Wood at the western end of the Straight Mile. With the proposed extension to the parish that includes the Straight Mile, Ganger Wood becomes a natural gateway to Ampfield, neatly balancing the landscape on the eastern approaches to the parish.
