Dear Mr Jackson

ELECTORAL REVIEW OF HERTFORDSHIRE: FURTHER LIMITED CONSULTATION

I refer to the Commission's recent decision to undertake a period of further limited consultation as part of its electoral review of Hertfordshire County Council.

Whilst I appreciate this is not relevant to the Stevenage area review, the Council has noted that in the Commission's proposals for County Council divisions that will comprise the Borough of Broxbourne, it would appear that there is an inaccurate description given to the division number 6 in the south of the Borough. This is shown in the Commission's Hertfordshire County Council divisions proposals as 'Waltham Abbey South West.' This division is currently called 'Waltham Cross'. It is assumed that there may be an error in the title in that the town of Waltham Abbey is not actually in the Borough (it adjoins Waltham Cross) and similarly, it is not actually in Hertfordshire, but in Essex.

I hope that the Commission may be able to rectify this matter. The Council consider that it might be appropriate for the division to retain its current name of 'Waltham Cross'.

Thank you for your consideration.

Yours sincerely
