

Francis B O' Brien

[REDACTED]

Member of the public

[REDACTED]

28/03/2013 19:06

"Decisions taken would be dictated by the electors not by the Party machine.

Two or three councillors to one area is far too many. Reorganise boundaries so that one councillor can be the dedicated representative for each area. That should reduce the numbers required to 21.

A more elector based decision making process would be the result. "