

I strongly object to the proposed change for Hennock Parish council. I do not feel it is in the interest of our parish to be split into two separate wards. This is an ancient parish and works well as it is. Our 3 villages are served well by our District councillor from Chudleigh ward. It is well represented and we have a good communication with the community. I fear that this proposal will interfere with the continuity within the council. It could lead to repetition of resources and time for all concerned. It may even be difficult to form a council. Although we represent all the villages within the parish, it would be difficult if that parish is split into two wards. Regards Susan Wonnacott
