Dear Mr McNulty,

ELECTORAL REVIEW OF SURREY

The purpose of this letter is to formally announce the start of the second consultation stage on division patterns in the electoral review of Surrey County Council.

The Commission has consulted on the proposed council size for Surrey and is currently minded to recommend 80 elected members. Consequently, proposals for division arrangements should be based on this council size.

I should stress that the Commission’s conclusions may be subject to change depending on the evidence received during the next consultation period. The decision, at this stage, provides a context within which local stakeholders can submit their views on the wider electoral arrangements for the county. During the review, the Commission may consider that the council size requires slight adjustment to provide for division patterns that better reflect electoral equality and community identity.

Next steps

The procedures which the Commission will be following in conducting the review are set out in its guidance, Electoral reviews: what they are and how you can get involved, copies of which were sent to your Council at the start of the review. I would ask you to make copies of the guidance available for inspection at your main offices. Further copies of the guidance are available on request.
A more detailed technical guidance document Electoral reviews: technical guidance is available on our website, at www.lgbce.org.uk. This document contains all the statutory information about the review process. Please note that this document is not available in hard copy.

Your Council is invited to submit representations on the new division arrangements no later than 3 April 2011.

Advertising the review

A copy of the Commission’s press release is enclosed and posters about the review have also been sent to your Council. We will also be sending posters to parish and town councils in Surrey, and the MPs with constituencies in the county. It would be much appreciated if you could publicise the start of consultation by placing copies of the poster on display, and by taking such other steps you consider appropriate to bring the review to the attention of the public and other interested parties.

Review timetable

During this consultation period, the Commission is inviting representations on division electoral arrangements, before preparing draft recommendations. It is intended that the draft recommendations will be published in the summer of 2011. The draft recommendations will be made available on our website at www.lgbce.org.uk, with hard copies of the report available on request. There will be a ten-week period of consultation on the draft recommendations before the Commission considers all representations received and formulates its final recommendations. We expect to publish the final recommendations at the beginning of 2012.

The Commission takes the consultation periods in the review very seriously. As the Commission may move away from its draft recommendations as a result of consultation, it is particularly important that everyone is encouraged to express their views on the draft recommendations, whether or not they agree with what has been proposed.

The Commission makes available for public inspection full copies of all representations it takes into account as part of a review. Accordingly, representations will be made available on our website at www.lgbce.org.uk.
copy of all representations will also be placed on deposit at the Commission’s London office. We will also supply your Council with copies of all representations. Please make these available for public inspection together with any representations your Council might make.

Creating a division pattern

The Commission aims to recommend a pattern of divisions that achieves good electoral equality, reflects community identities and interests and provides for effective and convenient local government. It will also seek to use strong, easily-identifiable boundaries.

Proposals should demonstrate how any pattern of divisions aids the provision of effective and convenient local government and why any deterioration in equality of representation or community identity should be accepted. Representations that are supported by evidence and argument will carry more weight with the Commission than those which merely assert a point of view.
