Our work directly and indirectly affects the way the wider community lives, behaves and develops and we firmly believe that our business should make a positive contribution to the society in which we live.

We support and encourage our employees to help local community organisations and activities in our regions, particularly our employee chosen charities, and we are very proud that many of our employees take part in a wide range of volunteering activities across the country.

All members of the firm are encouraged to participate in charitable fund raising events and, over the years, we have supported numerous charities with local, national and international aims, objectives and interests.

Valuation of pub to assist with community led takeover

We have recently provided valuation advice to assist a community led initiative in purchasing The Prince of Wales, Foxfield – a popular pub that was due to close.

The Prince of Wales is located in Foxfield a small village on the west coast of Cumbria and is currently run by a couple who have operated the pub for 21 years who have now decided to retire.

The pub is well known in the local area and among real ale enthusiasts as it prides itself on its ever-changing selection of beers, including a range from the connected Foxfield brewery.

A small steering group has been set up to create a cooperative where members of the community can buy shares in order to help keep the pub alive and they have also received backing from The Plunkett Foundation, a charitable organisation which specialises in community led schemes.

Lawrence Pinder, valuer in our Manchester team completed the valuation and commented, "A member of the steering committee approached us knowing that as a firm we had the expertise to provide them with valuation advice. As soon as we heard that the project was to be community driven and in part funded by a charitable organisation we offered to complete the work on a 'pro bono' basis."

"It's a really interesting project and it's great to think that we have played a small part in trying to save a well-loved pub from closure and I wish them all the very best of luck!"

October 2017 - On Friday 17th November we held a dress down across our offices in support of Children in Need, the charity that raises money for disabled children and young people throughout the UK.

This year the event raised a fantastic £14,000 for Jo's Cervical Cancer Trust and Ovarian Cancer Action.

Coast to coast cycle ride 2017

Eighteen SW property professionals from across our offices completed the 180 mile ride from Walney Island on the East Coast to Whitby on the West Coast.

This year's charity of choice was Core the team's fantastic efforts raised over £2500 for the charity, which is committed to fighting a range of digestive diseases across the UK.

The first day's riding was a bit of a shock to the system, as it is far more undulating than many of the group were prepared for (and the route profile would suggest) and the climb up 'Bigland' (a plateaued outcrop just before Cartmel) almost had a few of the group chucking the towel in early! After that, though, the route settled down a bit, which made for a very pleasant and scenic trip through Cartmel (a good lunch stop), through Grange and onto Levens. We stayed the night at a funky bunkhouse called 'Lumley Fee' which is owned and run by the Wheatsheaf pub in Brigsteer (just a mile or so north of Levens and so slightly off the route). The bunkhouse was new to us (and it does not feature on the accommodation section of the W2W website for some reason), but it is seriously good and an excellent choice for groups up to 20. The nearby Wheatsheaf pub prepared several trays of food, which was then cooked-up in the bunkhouse kitchen (and very tasty it was too!).

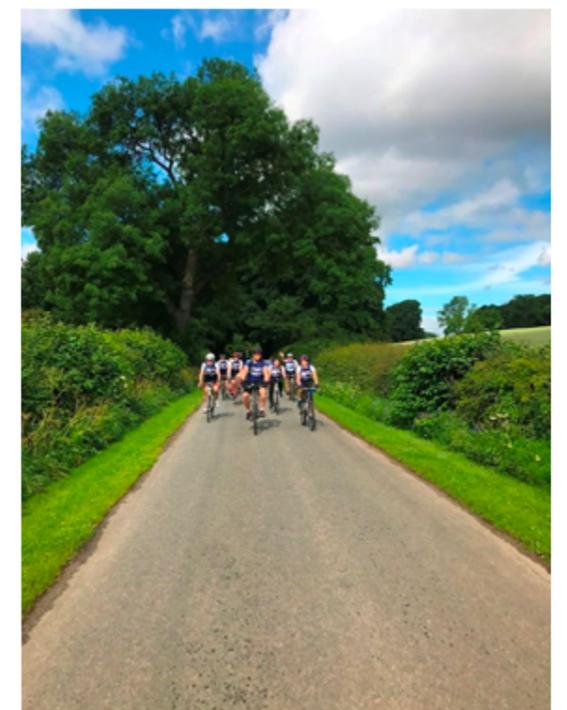

About the ride

On a long 'weekend' of 29 June to 1 July 2017, 18 Sanderson Weatherall staff set off on the W2W as the charity bike ride for the year.

This is the second time the firm have undertaken the W2W – the first time being in 2009 – when we opted for the shorter and slightly easier Wearside ending. This time, the group chose to do the alternative Whitby end to the route.

The team assembled at Walney Island for the obligatory photo and wheel-dip on the Thursday morning, eventually setting off at circa 11.00am. Despite the forecast of prolonged heavy rain, it was dry and cloudy at the start and remained pretty much that way until the end of the day.

July 2017 - Towards the end of July a team of property professionals from across our offices completed the JLL Northern Property Triathlon.

Representing SW this year were David Murray, Adam Marshall, Lauren Bailey, Stuart Avery, Nick Heap, Lawrence Pinder, George Williams, Ed Hine. The event was the biggest yet and raised a brilliant £25,000 for JLL's corporate charity, Crisis.

For Day 2, most of the riders got back to the route fairly easily by heading east from Brigsteer, down the hill and crossing the A591 – picking it up at Natland (although some of the purists re-joined at Levens so as to ensure none of the official route was missed out!). The weather brightened and a few blue gaps in the clouds started to appear. This was the day everyone has been bracing themselves for - about 70 undulating miles and the ascent of Tan Hill before tea. The Lune Valley is gorgeous (you are hardly aware of the 6 carriageways of the M6 to your left!). We took in a short, mid-day stop at the Chocolate Shop in Orton, and had lunch at Kirby Stephen. The actual ascent of Tan Hill is quite unusual – as it's not particularly steep - just circa 7 miles of energy-sapping incline. The bonus of reaching the top is, of course, (apart from the pint in the pub) the free wheel down towards Barnard Castle - which those in the group on a mountain bike particularly enjoyed (although those on road bikes got a bit shaken-up!). Luckily, most were down the hill before the mist and drizzle set-in!!

For the start of Day 3, from the hotel we needed to cycle just a couple of miles north east to meet up again with the route - which is numbered 165 at this point. Weather was good, with plenty of blue sky and the wind that there was to our backs. The terrain for the first part of the day was far less undulating, so the group moved at a good pace through the pretty countryside and villages of Teesside, stopping off for refreshments in Hutton Rudby and Great Ayton. After this, though, things changed as we hit the North Yorks Moors. As you would expect, there is a fair amount of steady climbing, but this seemed all too-cheaply given away in rapid down-hill bits. As such, the up/down/up/down nature becomes very noticeable and tiring. This continues almost all the way to Whitby – so the average pace over the last 25 miles or so dropped considerably from what we had been doing earlier in the day. Nevertheless, the entire group successfully reached the Whitby ending, with various levels of relief, to dip their wheels in the North Sea and gorge themselves on Fish & Chips. We stayed the night at the YHA, which is in a great spot on the hill next to the Abbey and they are well set up to deal with large groups.

Our group comprised a range of people with varying cycling abilities (from people having undertaken a couple of LEJoG's, to those that were only used to the occasional trip out on their mothers shopping bike) and all the riders successfully completed and thoroughly enjoyed it. The Whitby ending is longer and definitely more strenuous than the Wearside ending (albeit that this is more than made up by the quality of the scenery etc). The entire route is very well sign-posted throughout (although note that it changes from Route No.70 to Route No. 165 at Barnard Castle).

June 2017 - Megan Graham, Faye Woods and Rebecca Clarkson from our Leeds office raised a fantastic £970 for Cancer Research.

The money was raised following the girls all completing the Pretty Muddy 5k obstacle course at Temple Newsam on Saturday 3rd June.

April 2017 - Two surveyors from our Manchester office and one from our Birmingham office recently completed the 2017 Rome Marathon.

Nick Heap, Lawrence Pinder and Aidan King all took part and all finished despite thunderstorms and Aidan slipping on a banana skin!

March 2017 - On Friday March 24th we held a dress down across our offices in support of Red Nose Day, a biennial event organised by Comic Relief.

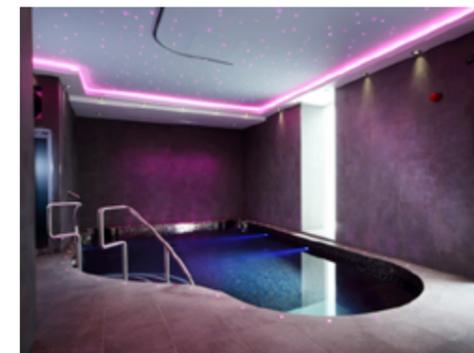

We raised a fantastic £490 for the charity with the company-wide dress down day, a cake sale in Leeds and a raffle, quiz and all-day buffet in our Newcastle office.

The pair raised a fantastic £400 for the charity.

In particular, Chris has been recognised for his efforts in supporting Rowlands Gill Live at Home Scheme.

London to Paris cycle ride 2016

June 2016 - Day at the movies for Rowlands Gill charity member
A group of older people from Rowlands Gill have enjoyed an extra special day out at the cinema in Newcastle thanks to a charity initiative. The event was hosted by our Newcastle office in partnership with the Rowlands Gill Live at Home Scheme.

Sixteen SW property experts and staff have completed a demanding 215-mile cycle ride from London to Paris in just three and a half days to raise funds for the British Heart Foundation.

contend with! After a morale boosting breakfast stop in Neufchâtel-en-Bray, the team arrived at the destination for their overnight stay in Forges-les-Eaux early in the afternoon for a well-deserved rest and a taste of 'home-cooked' Normandy cuisine.

Setting off from SW's office on Great Titchfield Street, Fitzrovia, the team struggled through the hectic London traffic on what turned out to be a whistle-stop tour of the capital's major attractions – passing Trafalgar Square, 10 Downing Street, the Houses of Parliament, the London Eye, Tower Bridge and the Tate Modern - before joining Sustrans route 21 at Greenwich for the 90 or so mile journey south. A strong headwind; the odd mechanical malfunction; a team record number of punctures; and news of left luggage in Leeds, tested the team's spirit to its limit – a veritable text-book exercise in crisis management and disaster recovery! However, the encountered difficulties only served to galvanise the unity of the team further, as they pushed their way over the North and then South Downs before arriving to catch the 11.00pm ferry at Newhaven, on England's south coast.

The team's overnight ferry docked at Dieppe at 5.00am (French time), just in time for the dawn of the day. Devoid of any meaningful sleep, all were relieved that the riding for Day 2 was to be only circa 30 miles or so, along the Avenue Verte – a converted former railway that has been incorporated into the green cycleway linking London with Paris – which meant a steady section of riding without any more significant hills to June 2016 - David Fairley in our Teesside office won first place for his tart at the Jacksons Law Firm bake off. The bake off was in support of Butterwick Hospice, a North East charity for individuals suffering from life limiting illnesses.

The weather gods well and truly smiled upon Team SW for Day 3 - as the winds of change powered them through the beautiful rolling French countryside and picturesque towns & villages towards the outskirts of Paris in bright and sunny conditions, where the welcoming and attentive staff of the Campanile at Villennes-sur-Seine ensured the team were comfortably fed, rested and entertained. The mood in the camp was now well and truly upbeat, as Team SW looked forward to the following day's ride into Paris with a forecast of further bright and sunny conditions.

The final morning involved a relatively short ride of just under 30 miles of well surfaced forest paths through the outskirts of Paris, using the Bois de Boulogne and other Royal Forests. Through the leafy suburbs and boulevards of Paris, before finally arriving at the Eiffel Tower – where the team instantly became a photographic sensation with the hordes of International tourists.

Simon Heather, Partner in the Manchester office, and organiser of this year's trip said: "After a particularly tough first day, we are absolutely delighted to have completed the trip as a team, all in one piece...and with all our luggage! The funds we have raised will be gratefully received by this year's chosen charity. On behalf of the team, I would like to say 'thank you' to everyone that has donated as this support really does make all the hard work worthwhile."

This year, the challenge was completed in support of the British Heart Foundation - a charity that provides funding, research and awareness campaigns aimed at preventing heart disease across the UK.

Volunteers from both sides of the Pennines join forces in flood recovery

In February 2015 staff from our Manchester office, and Ward Hadaway solicitors in Leeds teamed up with staff from Canal & River Trust to help clean up a section of the Aire & Calder Navigation.

The winter 2015 floods were some of the worst ever seen on the region's historic waterways and caused damage to bridges, embankments and canal walls. The floodwaters also left behind an array of rubbish and other debris as well as a coating of mud and silt.

The volunteers helped to clear the rubbish that had been left along the Aire & Calder Navigation near Fearn Wharf. They also replanted a mature holly tree that was washed away and reinstated a riverside garden that was destroyed by the force of the floodwaters.

Recca Dent, volunteer development coordinator for the Canal & River Trust said; "The Boxing Day floods were some of the worst we've ever seen on our waterways and they've left a trail of damage and disruption in their wake. "Everyone knows that there's a bit of rivalry between Leeds and Manchester and it's really nice to see people wanting to help out no matter where they come from."

Simon Heather, a Partner in our Manchester office said, "this is the second time we have undertaken this type of work for the Trust – having previously crewed the Trust's litter boat in 2013. When we heard of the damage caused by the recent flooding in Leeds, we felt compelled to respond to the call for volunteers and offer our help. Although exhausting, it was a thoroughly enjoyable and rewarding day for all involved".

The Trust has also launched an appeal to help rebuild canals in the heart of flood-hit communities such as those along the Calder & Hebble Navigation. The Boxing Day floods destroyed homes and businesses, damaged historic canals and washed away much loved stretches of towpath. The Trust's appeal will help rebuild and reopen historic waterways helping waterside communities, where life has been turned upside down, to recover.

December 2015 - Alex Slack in our Newcastle office helped a flood affected farmer in Cumbria whose business has been decimated by the December 2015 floods, by clearing debris and taking down fences.

June 2015 - Adam Burkinshaw from our York office successfully completed an Ironman triathlon.

Adam completed the event for Parkinsons UK, who provide support for people dealing with the condition. Money raised so far is over £1500.

August 2015 - Karen Knaggs in our Newcastle office successfully completed a 5k run in order to raise money for Cancer Research UK.

She raised an amazing £2000.

June 2015 - Our annual company bike ride was completed by 16 employees, who successfully cycled 220 miles from London to Bristol. The team cycled in support of two charities; MS Society and Jo's Cervical Cancer Trust. Congratulations to Will Price, Matt Collier, Liz McLoughlin, Jessica Burke, Ian Vivian, Craig Watson, Simon Heather, Vanessa, Mashender, Tom Goode, Dominic Towler, Lawrence Pinder, Nick Heap, Richard Dunn, Aidan King, Mark Sheridan and Stuart Avery, from around our network of offices.

APC training pays off for Canal and River Trust Surveyor

Recently we have introduced an initiative to assist our clients and partner organisations in becoming full members of the Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors (RICS) too by helping them to qualify as a member by passing the Assessment of Professional Competence (APC).

Under the scheme, experts from across our offices offer pro bono training and mentoring to provide the knowledge they need to pass the APC training. Candidates prepare for the assessment by taking part in mock interviews and receiving advice from the firm on presentation and interview skills.

Partner in our Leeds office, David Rastrick, said: "As property consultants and chartered surveyors we are well-versed in the APC requirements and have had a fantastic success rate for our own graduates. However, many organisations require their staff to have APC accreditation but do not have the in-house expertise that we have – in those cases we are happy to be able to help equip them with the skills and training required to achieve this."

So far, graduates from Greggs, SIG, Costcutter, Canal & River Trust and Town Centre Securities have benefited from the mentoring scheme, which is offered at all our offices nationwide.

Alistair Staton, commercial surveyor at Canal & River Trust, the charity that cares for over 2,000 miles of historic waterways in England and Wales, took advantage of our mentoring scheme and achieved his APC qualification this year. We coached Alistair through the latter stages of his written submission and conducted mock interviews with a panel of experts from the firm.

He commented: "Sanderson Weatherall's mentoring was very helpful in allowing me to gain my full qualification. David and his team have a wealth of experience and plenty of advice, as well as conducting very authentic mock interviews and checking the format of my written submissions.

"At Canal & River Trust we have worked with Sanderson Weatherall on a variety of property matters, but providing this mentoring was definitely going above and beyond. I am very grateful to all those who offered their advice and would recommend the scheme to any of my colleagues looking to pass the APC."

The APC consists of a written submission and a professional interview. These take place after acquiring at least two years' relevant experience and completing a structured training programme, which provides a broad range of experience across different disciplines and departments.

July 2014 - For the 2014 annual charity bike ride, a hardy SW team undertook a Coast to Coast Ride in three days over 19th - 21st July 2014 following the 'Reivers Route' - a northern coast to coast cycle route

The event involved 14 teams including various property and media businesses from the North West region. Paired up with DTZ in a boat of 16, the SW team progressed through the various heats and into the final, where they were ultimately narrowly beaten into second place (by less than 1 second!!). The SW team raised sponsorship for Peels nominated charity, Sparks (www.sparks.org.uk), with the total buoyed by a contribution from SW Partners. June 2013 – Chris Noble, Partner in SW's Teesside office helped jointly organise fund raising and drinks party event for the 'great and good' of Darlington in aid of the Clervaux Trust, that raised over £6,000 for the charity, whilst also heightening awareness of the role and work of the Trust in the community.

The Clervaux Trust is a registered charity that works with some of the most disadvantaged and disenfranchised young people in the North East, including those excluded from school and those needing long term care due to learning disabilities, mental health issues or complex social needs.
