

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ENGIE IMPACT NAMED OFFICIAL PARTNER OF CLIMATE WEEK NYC 2022

Company Leaders to Headline Opening Ceremony, Host Executive Roundtable Discussion and Preview New Original Research on the State of Global Climate Action

New York – September 16, 2022 – ENGIE Impact, a leader in sustainability transformation solutions, is returning as an official partner of Climate Week NYC 2022, taking place September 19-25. Alongside other global climate change leaders, decarbonization experts from various disciplines within ENGIE will highlight the urgency of committing to net zero targets and share guidance for immediate implementation of plans.

As part of Climate Week, ENGIE's visibility and involvement will be all-encompassing:

- Mathias Lelievre, CEO of ENGIE Impact, will be one of the headline speakers at the Opening Ceremony on Monday, September 18 from 9:00 a.m. - 1:00 p.m. ET
- Diego Ibarra, Managing Director, Sustainability Solutions of the Americas of ENGIE Impact will host a closed door executive roundtable discussion during The Hub Live on Tuesday, September 20 from 8:00 a.m. - 9:30 a.m. ET. Joining Ibarra as co-host is Gary Doer, the 23rd Canadian Ambassador to the United States and former Premier of Manitoba.
- ENGIE Impact will preview the forthcoming ENGIE Impact 2022 Net Zero Report, the company's latest proprietary research
- Seven senior executives from ENGIE Impact's team will serve as delegates throughout the event and available to speak to the most important and timely decarbonization topics

"We are in the midst of a global climate emergency," said Mathias Lelievre, CEO ENGIE Impact. "Climate Week NYC is an opportunity for leaders from around the world to collaborate on solving humanity's greatest challenge. This shared purpose matches the ENGIE Impact mission to accelerate sustainability transformation for our clients, and we are eager to share our knowledge and expertise to help achieve a zero-carbon future."

Combining the world's largest knowledgebase of energy-use data and a ground-breaking digital tracking and modeling platform with diverse expert knowledge and implementation expertise, ENGIE Impact helps organizations bridge the gap between setting aspirational sustainability targets and taking real action to achieve decarbonization goals. ENGIE Impact supports some of the world's largest companies on their net zero journeys, among them Procter & Gamble, Netflix, Faurecia and 25% of global Fortune 500 brands. Over the last six years, ENGIE Impact has helped its clients collectively save nearly $1 billion through reduced energy usage. At the same time, they reduced GHG emissions equivalent to that of nearly 900,000 passenger vehicles operated for a year.

As part of the week-long activities, Mathias Lelievre, CEO of ENGIE Impact, will be one of the headline speakers at the Opening Ceremony on Monday, September 18 from 9:00 a.m. - 1:00 p.m. ET, which kicks off Climate Week. Lelievre will address climate and energy issues in the geopolitical context of today and how to drive action forward as leaders share their global outlook on climate change.

Diego Ibarra, Managing Director, Sustainability Solutions of the Americas will host an executive roundtable discussion during The Hub Live on Tuesday, September 20 from 8:00 a.m. - 9:30 a.m. ET to discuss the readiness gaps that exist between leadership and operational levels, the various hurdles that exist to implementation and how to measure carbon like other strategic assets.

The forthcoming ENGIE Impact 2022 Net Zero Report is the company's latest proprietary research, offering a current state-of-affairs accounting of our global climate response and keen insights into progress achieved and barriers holding back corporate climate action.

Throughout the week, seven ENGIE Impact delegates will additionally speak to the most important and timely decarbonization topics, including new technology, net zero fuels, new legislation such as the Inflation Reduction Act and proposed SEC reporting regulations, and a wide variety of topics relating to sustainability transformation that must happen now to save our world from the worst effects of climate change. Those delegates include the following:

- Mathias Lelievre, CEO, ENGIE Impact - How to implement a decarbonization roadmap starting at the leadership level and what are the gaps/considerations to implementation and how to solve for them.
- Diego Ibarra, Managing Director, Sustainability Solutions of the Americas of ENGIE Impact - Financial risk of investment-ready roadmaps (high cost of not acting today)
- Kim Carnahan, Senior Director, Net Zero Fuels - How to implement change in hardest-to-abate sectors such as aviation and shipping to achieve net zero

- Paige Janson, Chief Operating Officer, Sustainable Resource Management - Available talent gaps and outsourcing within your organization
- Freddie Hospedales, Chief Marketing Officer - Decarbonization at the leadership level (taking action now)
- Varun Gowda, Chief Digital Officer - Sourcing available tech access and capabilities within your organization
- Pablo Morales Leiva, Managing Director, South America - Keeping your manufacturing business running while meeting and implementing your sustainability goals
